All-America Selections

An independent non-profit organization committed to bringing you Award-winning flowers and vegetables.

All-America Selections (AAS) was founded in 1932 as a way to test for superior garden performance.

Today, AAS utilizes a network of over 80 professional horticulture judges all over North America who trial and evaluate new, never-before-sold varieties. Only the best performers are declared AAS Winners.

For details about the AAS trialing program, please visit the AAS Website: www.aaswinners.com
