

Basil Treviso

This award-winning basil is an outstanding choice for any kitchen garden, boasting a tight, compact, and highly branched habit perfect for larger containers. Not only does it offer delicious, slightly anise-flavored leaves, but it also stays tender longer—resisting bitterness after harvest and maintaining excellent leaf quality late into the season. The AAS Judges love its vigor, heat tolerance, and notably slow-to-flower nature.

AAS® Winner Data

Genus species: Ocimum basilicum

Common name: Basil

Foliage color: Green

Plant height: 15-18 inches

Plant habit: Mounded

Plant type: Edible

Garden location: Full sun

Days to Harvest: 90 (from seed)

Closest comparisons on market: Prospera

Active Mia

Tested Nationally & Proven Locally®

aaswinners.com